

CLOCS-A

How It Began

CLOCS-A is about reducing the impact of mistakes on the road so that all road users are more aware and understand each.

Australia has undergone unprecedented $200 billion major infrastructure builds in our cities for at least a decade. The key to its success is trucks, without them none of these can be delivered.

This means more trucks on our roads and an increased risk of interactions between bicycle riders, pedestrians and motorcyclists.